GOOD news from the Barren county oil fields state that there have been seven new wells located. The Central Kentucky Oil Co., of this city have good territory in this section and are selling stock rapidly. This company is composed of the most substantial business people in Paris and anyone who has money to invest would not miss it if they took stock in the Central Kentucky Oil Co.

THE News is in receipt of the following invitation:

"The Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of Kentucky and Encampment of Uniform Rank will convene in annual session October 23, 24 and 25, 1901, at Owensboro, Ky., where its members and visiting Knights will be hospitably received."

"The Pythian Knights of Star Lodge No. 19, of Owensboro, cordially request your presence at the entertainment and your participation in or attendance at the exercises provided for that occasion."

MR. L. H. MYERS, who has had charge as Superintendent of the Paris Electric Light plant for the past four years, left this morning for St. Marys, Ohio, where he takes charge of the electric light plant. Mr. Myers is an electrician of long experience, a gentleman of quiet and unassuming manners and has made many friends during his residence in Paris. The Electric Light Company, as well as Mr. Myers' friends and neighbors, regret to see him leave and wish him happiness and prosperity in his new home.

The "Haymakers."

With a screeching of whistles, the booming of cannon torpedoes, the swish of rockets, the yelling of hundreds of Indians and the playing of the most remarkable band on earth the "Haymakers" from Maysville descended upon our quiet little city Wednesday night, and for a while those who were no aware of their coming thought that a whole tribe of bloodthirsty Apaches had gone upon the war path and were burning the town.

The Maysville boys to the extent of one hundred and one, arrived at 6:30 on a special train. They were met at the depot by the degree team of Paris lodge of Red Men mounted on horses and garbed in the fantastic costume of the order. The train had hardly come to a standstill before the air was a mass of fire works, making one of the prettiest displays ever seen in Paris. The band struck up "We Won't Go Home 'Till Morning," and our citizens resigned themselves to a cruel fate which was in store for them.

Taking up the line of march at the depot, the parade passed down Pleasant to the Windsor Hotel, up Main to Tenth and down High to Sixth where it disbanded. The visitors were then taken to the Fordham, where Landlord Connors, who is himself an Irish Indian, fairly outdid himself in entertaining them.

After supper the ceremonies of installing the Paris lodge, and judging from the wild shrieks of agony mingled with howls of pleasure which were wafted out upon the cool breezes of the night it must have been a big success.

After the ceremonies were over the visitors were escorted to the Odd Fellows' Hall, where a sumptuous repast prepared by Mrs. Ben Perry awaited them. It was one of the most delightful spreads ever served in Paris and Mrs. Perry was highly complimented upon her excellent taste and judgment.

At 2 o'clock a. m., the special train pulled out of the depot on its return home, bearing with it a tired but as jolly a lot of fellows as ever came down the track.

THE Haymakers returned this morning from their trip to Paris. One hundred and fifteen were in the party, members of the Maysville lodge being joined by members from Minerva, Augusta, Manchester and Brandyville. It is not necessary to add that the "tramps" had a great time.—Maysville Bulletin.

G. Tucker's Will.

The will of Mr. G. Tucker was yesterday presented in court and ordered recorded. It was written by himself on his 63d birthday, Dec. 23, 1897, and is attested by W. W. Ingels and Miss Bessie Lowry. He appoints his wife, Mrs. Annie E. B. Tucker, executrix without bond; requests all just debts be paid, and then all property, personal and real, belonging to the estate, to be equally divided between his wife and three children, R. C. and Wm. E. Tucker and Mrs. Flora T. Collins, his wife to relinquish her dower in all of his property, except she is to receive all furniture and household effects. Further on he says: "At a time when I was financially able, I gave to my wife, as a separate estate, the real estate she now owns to be a support to her in her declining years, and I do hereby request of her to never under any promise or inducement, by or from others, to be persuaded to lend her signature or name to any bond, note or other obligation that may at some time given her financial trouble, and, perhaps, involve her estate."

Lexington Trots.

Rain caused a postponement of the races Wednesday. Yesterday the card contained not only the races advertised for that day, but the two events which were to be decided Wednesday—the pacing division of the Futurity and the 2:21 class trotting.

Peter Sterling won the Futurity Stake on Tuesday. Dan Patch won the Tennessee Stake. Captor won the 2:12 Stake.

Yesterday's results were as follows: Improbable won the Futurity for 2-year-olds. Best time 2:19 3/4. Colonel Cochran won the second race. Best time 2:14 3/4. Onward Silver won the Transylvania Stakes.

The 2:12 pace was not finished. The Abbott trotted against time to a wagon. Time, 2:06 3/4.

Lowery's Saddle Shop Burned.

At 2 o'clock Tuesday morning Night Watchman Newt Clark discovered that the harness shop of John Lowery was on fire and quickly summoned the fire department, which responded quickly as usual. It is supposed that the fire started from a defective flue. The fire completely destroyed the stock. But for the excellent work of the fire ladders there would have been a very serious fire.

Mr. Lowery carried $1,900 insurance on his stock. The building belongs to the estate of the late George Ingels.

For Sale.

I offer my saloon for sale cheap. It is a good stand, if not robbed, and if you can get protection by law. I am forced to close on Sunday; if I do not I am fined, and if I do close I am robbed of my goods and the thief is defended by an Attorney who is a City Councilman. If a burglar can get protection and a law abiding citizen is robbed by a burglar, and would-be murdered and then turned loose to roam the town and never work, my life property and business is in danger and to avoid this I will sell out cheap. Call on or address, JAS. CONNELLY, Main St. between 7th and 8th, (adv-1t) Paris, Ky.

A Woman's Rights.

The ethereal rays of setting sun, As forecasts of the coming night, Shedding their halos all around, Once filled my heart with fond delight. At evening shades I'd bid adieu And tyrest with her at fading day.

I speak of my wife, whom I adore, And think of my stupidity. She has left me now for evermore; Just think of my humility. 'Twas all because I would not agree To have her furniture upholstered by J-H-M-C.

A Worthless Crowd.

The sewer contractors are advertising daily for laborers, offering $1.25 per day. They are compelled to import colored labor from the South on account of not being able to get it here. Our streets are filled with idle negroes who refuse to work at any price. The county authorities are compiling a list of them, and this winter, when the usual application will be made for assistance from the county, they will be refused. There should be some means devised to compel this class of people to work or leave the county. During the winter months they will commit petit larceny in order to be arrested, and a jail sentence to them only means three meals a day and a warm place to sleep. If they were compelled to serve out their sentence at hard labor it might possibly put a stop to it.

Coming Amusements.

The monarchs of r-pertoire. Messrs. Smith and Lamb, presenting the Murray Comedy Company, are due in this city soon. The organization is stronger than ever and consists of twenty people and will surely create a furor among our theatre-goers. It is a popular priced company par excellence, and the specialties, of which there are a great number, are of a high order. The company will appear here for a week, commencing Monday, October 14th. The opening bill, "The Man From the West," is a comedy-drama pure and sparkling and fairly bristles with startling climaxes and laughing comedy. The enviable reputation the company has gained throughout the country will be more than sustained this season. Better plays have never been presented at popular prices, and crowded houses will surely greet the advent of the great Murray Comedy Company.

Ladies free upon opening night when accompanied by a person with a paid thirty cent ticket, provided the ticket is purchased before 6 p. m. Seats now on sale at usual place.

Each person attending during the week will be given a number. On Saturday night the drawing will be held on the stage for three handsome presents—a rocking chair, a "Standard Oil" lamp and a pair of beautiful pictures. These articles are on exhibition in Hinton's furniture store window.

If you want comfort this winter you must have good comforts. Hinton has a big stock of comforts and blankets. Don't wait until the very cold weather to make your purchases. Come now and get first choice before the stock is picked over. 2t

The above named Company, composed of business men of Paris, has recently been incorporated, and for the purpose of developing their oil and mineral leases, offer for sale a limited number of shares of stock.

The Company's holdings consist of leases on nearly 7,000 acres of land, nearly all of which are located in Barren and Allen Counties, Kentucky. Their lands have been carefully selected, some of which adjoin lands on which are Oil wells that have produced for years a very fine grade of oil. Their leases were secured before the present rush and excitement began in those Counties, and are choice lands, and valuable.

Lands, adjoice it to Company's, secured recently by Eastern capitalists at large price, are now being developed as fast as machinery can be put on grounds. Those desiring stock can obtain same by applying to Secretary or any officers of the Company. 20ct
